

Please do not change the Wisconsin no-call list to permit bankers to call us at home. The no-call system we have now works and works very well by permitting our homes to be without constant interruptions from any business. Banks have many other advertising and customer contact processes available to them and shouldn't require the federal government to waste its time with silly complaints and requests such as this one.